Segment 4: Imst - Lermoos

Rated easy to intermediate, this segment includes a ride with Imster Bergbahnen Chair Lift and brings you close to the Austria-Germany border. The climb atop Marienbergjoch Col into Außerfern Area with some steep pitches has a total vertical rise of 1,200 meters and will test your strength. Kicking off at 1,800 metres above sea level, the trail then snakes its way down to Ehrwald Basin and offers uninterrupted panoramic views of majestic Zugspitze Mountain in the North-east. The awesome vistas back into Inntal Valley and the alpine environments of Ehrwald, Lermoos und Biberwier provide plenty of spots to stop and take some glamor pics!

Tourdescription

Ride Imster Bergbahnen Chair Lift atop Untermarkter Alpe. The top terminal heralds the start of a short stretch of climbing, gaining some 130 metres in height, followed by a mellow descent that curves its way beautifully down and deposits you at the foot of another short climb, close to Starkenbergersee Lake. The last part of the descent down to Tarrenz has some tight turns. Cross Fern Pass Road to get to the quieter, eastern side of the valley. Follow this route to the northeast until you reach the village of Nassereith. From here, the trail gains 1,200 meters in height over the course of the long, leg-sapping ascent atop Marienbergjoch Col. There are some steep pitches to negotiate close to the old sled run, taking you to the col, 1,800 metres above sea level. A technical downhill ride coasts down to Ehrwald Basin. From Ehrwald, a short section along a paved road brings you to Lermoos, the destination end of this ride.
